

minute to win it... valentine's day style!

LICORICE challenge

Give each student 2 pieces of licorice. Have them measure after 30 seconds for the 1st piece and measure after 60 seconds for the 2nd piece. Have each student put the end of a red string licorice in his/her mouth. Then everyone must put their hands behind their back. The first person to eat the whole piece of licorice in 30 seconds and 60 seconds wins!

NAME: _____

Before I started my LICORICE was _____ cm long.

Here is a picture of my licorice.

After 30 seconds my LICORICE was _____ cm long.

Here is a picture of my licorice.

After 60 seconds my LICORICE was _____ cm long.

Here is a picture of my licorice.

valentine's heart hunt

Pick up a package of heart-shaped erasers or other valentine's day themed erasers (I got a pack of 24 valentine-themed erasers in the dollar bins at Target). Hide the erasers around your classroom. If you can't find erasers I have included 24 little hearts to hide in your room. Then send your kids out for an un-BEAT-able treasure hunt! Remember they only have 60 seconds!

Heart-a-stack

Give each student a box of small conversation hearts. The object of the game is to build the tallest tower in an allotted amount of time (like 30-60 seconds depending on the speed of the students). When the time is up, the players count their hearts to see who the winner is. This is so much fun!

name: _____

HEART-A-STACK BAR GRAPH

NUMBER OF STUDENTS

18
17
16
15
14
13
12
11
10
9
8
7
6
5
4
3
2
1
	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____

NUMBER OF CONVERSATION HEARTS STACKED

chocolate unicorn

you will need to put the students into pairs for this little activity. 1 player will need to lean backward and the other player will need to stack 6 chocolate snack cakes on their forehead. the only player that can touch the cakes is the player placing it on the forehead. the first team to stack all 6 and balance them for 10 seconds wins!

name: _____

HOW-TO make a UNICORN HORN

FIRST

Next

Then

LAST

valentine scramble

you will need to cut apart the valentine picture using the dotted lines in the picture. then put all the pieces into a ziploc bag. you can have your students do this in pairs or independently. the first one/team to put it together correctly wins. I included two puzzles, one with bigger pieces and one with smaller ones. if you want to pieces a little sturdy you can print on cardstock.

Happy valentines Day!

Happy valentines Day!

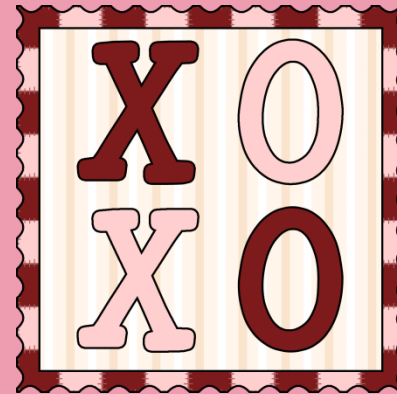

Thanks to:

www.scrappindoodles.com

www.kevinandamanda.com/fonts

Images from Google

Thanks for downloading one of my products!

make sure you check out my blog:

<http://the-teachingreef.com/>

Love, Shannon Moyer